Torture - Boatripe to Hell!

Step aboard the newly extended and scarier than ever boatripe at the London Dungeon, the Capital's creepiest day out. Sentenced to death, you pass through Traitor's Gate and begin a spine tingling voyage into the depths of the Dungeon. Darkness surrounds you, lights flicker and your heart begins to pound! Death comes swiftly as you hurtle straight down to Hell...

Designer of the Year

Who will win the £25,000 prize given to the Designer of the Year? Embracing every area of design, this prestigious award celebrates the richness and diversity of the UK's design talent by identifying the UK designer who made the biggest impact in the past year. This year's short-listed designers are multimedia designer Daniel Brown, product designer Sam Buxton, lighting designer Paul Cocksedge and former Liverpool FC player-turned-sports-footwear-designer, Craig Johnston, who designed the best-selling Adidas Predator worn by David Beckham and Jonny Wilkinson. Come and see the work of these four design luminaries and vote for your favourite.

Goddesses and Totems

A chance to view new work by sculptors John Huggins and Patricia Volk. John Huggins' new collection of bronze figures is based on the Neolithic 'Sleeping Goddesses' of Malta - rotund women lounging on benches. Patricia Volk's huge ceramic heads continue to create bold and powerful statements. The exhibition also showcases her newly developed 'Totem' heads, with brightly coloured markings covering the surfaces in strong and arresting patterns.

Flora London Marathon 2004

Come along and cheer on the runners as they battle to complete this year's Flora London Marathon. For some memorable views, pitch a spot near the half way spot where you can see them cross Tower Bridge or run past the Tower of London. Pubs, such as the Dickens Inn in St Katharine's Way, the River Bar and the Bridge House on Tower Bridge Rd and the Walrus & Carpenter on Monument St, will be providing entertainment, while bands and street performers make it one great big street party.

FREE Fri 2 Apr - Sun 4 Apr • 11am-5pm

London Glassblowing Spring Open Weekend and Sale

Come and witness the fascinating art of glassblowing at London's only open glassworking studio - and pick up beautiful and original pieces at bargain prices!

Some of the country's top glass artists are on show, including Peter Layton, David Flower, Marie Worre Hastrup Holm, Louis Thomson and Anthony Scala, and there's a demonstration of lampworking by Bruce Marks. Nibbles, drinks and a free prize draw add to the atmosphere.

Archigram

Ask any architect to cite their influences and one name is almost certain to appear - Archigram. Founded in 1960 by six young London architects - Warren Chalk, Peter Cook, Dennis Crompton, David Greene, Ron Herron and Michael Webb - Archigram dominated the architectural avant-garde for the next decade with its exuberant, pop-inspired visions of a future fuelled by technological and social progress. Curated in collaboration with members of the original Archigram group, this exhibition will present their vision to a new generation.

Wolfgang Mueller - Sky over St Petersburg

St Petersburg has recently had a major facelift to celebrate its 300th anniversary. Yet in the backyards of Nevskij Prospect, the main shopping street, and behind the construction site hoardings, lies a very different world. Wolfgang Mueller's photographs, taken during the run-up to the anniversary celebrations, tell the stories of children and teenagers who live in the attics of disused buildings. It is here that they hope to find some sort of a home where they can sleep, take drugs without being apprehended and make money from prostitution.
